

Important Notice for Washington Natural Gas Customers

(January 2024)

On December 22, 2023, Avista filed its first Climate Commitment Act (CCA) cost recovery tariff with the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (UTC or Commission). If approved, new rates would take effect March 1, 2024.

The CCA, passed by the Washington State legislature and enacted into law in 2021, implements a cap-and-invest program designed to meet emission reduction targets and reduce emissions by 95% of 1990 levels by 2050. Natural gas utilities must meet declining targets for greenhouse gas emissions (GHG) as compared to a baseline, which is the average emissions from 2015-2019. Beginning in 2023, natural gas utilities received no-cost emissions allowances to cover a portion of their GHG baseline, which 65% of the no-cost allowances had to be consigned to allowance auctions held by the Department of Ecology. Consignment of no-cost allowances to auction resulted in revenues back to the utility, which shall be used for the benefit of customers as determined by the Commission, including at minimum, eliminating any additional cost burden to low-income customers due to the implementation of the CCA. Locations connected to the natural gas system after July 25, 2021, are not eligible to receive any benefit from these revenues, per state law, hence the larger increases shown below.

If approved, Avista's request is designed to increase natural gas revenues by $11.2 million or 4.1%.

Change in Rates - If approved by the Commission, residential natural gas customers using 64 therms per month in Washington who were connected to the system on or before July 25, 2021, would see their monthly bills change from $92.28 to $95.55, an increase of $3.27 per month, or approximately 3.5%. Residential natural gas customers using 64 therms per month in Washington who were connected to the system after July 25, 2021, would see their monthly bills change from $92.28 to $107.04, an increase of $14.76 per month, or approximately 16.0%. Low-income residential customers would see no impact from this request.

The percentage change varies by rate schedule and depends on how much energy a customer uses. If approved, customers would see the following rate adjustments:
