See if your household income qualifies:

To use the chart, look down the left column to find the number of people living in your home. Then, move across the row to find the total amount of money that your whole household can earn and still be eligible. The first number you see is what you can earn in a whole year, and the second number is for each month.

Remember: If you live with more than 12 people, you are allowed to earn more money. For each extra person in your household, you can add the money listed in the bottom column. Figures are based on 60% of SMI (State Median Income).

Household Unit Size	60% SMI Annual Gross Income	60% SMI Monthly Gross Income
1 Person	$33,427	$2,786
2 Person	$43,712	$3,643
3 Person	$53,997	$4,500
4 Person	$64,282	$5,357
5 Person	$74,567	$6,214
6 Person	$84,852	$7,071
7 Person	$86,781	$7,232
8 Person	$88,709	$7,392
