Frequently Asked Questions

Q. When do these changes start?

The changes start on November 1, 2026.

- The winter discount is used from November through April.
- The non-winter discount is used from May through October.

Q. What is changing?

The program is changing to give more help during the winter months.

Energy bills are often higher when the weather is cold. This change gives customers more support during those months.

Your discount will still be based on your household's income and size. If you are already enrolled in My Energy Discount, you will stay enrolled.

Q. How do you decide my discount?

Your discount is based on:

- How many people live in your home.
- Your household income.

Avista uses this information to determine which discount level is right for you.

Q. Why is this change needed?

This change helps make sure customers get support when they need it most.

Because energy bills are often higher in the winter, the program will provide larger discounts during those months.

Q. Why is my discount larger in winter and smaller in summer?

Energy bills are usually higher in the winter and lower during warmer months.

This change is designed to make your discount more helpful when energy bills are often highest.

Q. If I'm on Comfort Level Billing, how will this affect my plan?

What stays the same:

- Your discount will reduce your monthly payment amount as well as your actual billed amount.
- Your discount will still show on your bill.

What changes:

- You will have a winter payment amount from November through April.
- You will have a non-winter payment amount from May through October.

Your winter payment amount will include your larger winter discount. Your non-winter payment amount will include your smaller non-winter discount.

Q. Am I losing my benefit?

No. Your My Energy Discount is not going away.

- You will stay enrolled for the time period you originally signed up for.
- Your discount amount will change based on the time of year.
- Customers will receive the most support during the winter.

Depending on the time of year, some customers may receive a smaller discount than before or may only receive a discount during the winter months.

Q. Do I need to reapply?

No. You do not need to reapply because of this change.

Your enrollment will continue through your current enrollment period. Avista will contact you when it is time to reapply.
